

Dennis C. Turner프로필

- Born 1948 in the USA, dual citizen of Switzerland since 1992.
- Married.
- Doctor of Science degree from The Johns Hopkins University School of Hygiene and Public Health, Baltimore, MD, USA, 1974
- Senior Research Associate and Tenured Lecturer, Animal Behavior Dept., University of Zurich (1975-2011; 50% after 1991)
- Founder and Director, Institute for applied Ethology and Animal Psychology, I.E.A.P./I.E.T., Switzerland (since 1991)
(www.turner-iet.ch)
- Private Faculty Member, Vetsuisse Faculty, University of Zurich, 2000-2013.
- Invited Professor for Anthrozoology, esp. Animal-Assisted Therapy, Azabu University, Fuchinobe (Tokyo), Japan, since 2001
- President of the International Association of Human-Animal Interaction Organizations, IAHAIO, 1995-2010 (www.iahaio.org)
- Delegate of the IAHAIO Board for European Issues, since 2010
- Co-founder and Secretary of the International Society for Animal-Assisted Therapy, ISAAT, 2006 to present
(www.aat-isaat.org)
- Trustee and Chair of the Scientific Advisory Panel, World Society for the Protection of Animals, WSPA, London, 2004-2012

강의 주제 및 내용

The Role of the Human-Animal Relationship in Human Health and Well-being

- The importance of animals to children, handicapped and the elderly
- Mechanisms explaining the popularity and effects of animals on health and well-being
- The effects of pets on the general public
- The therapeutic effects of animals
- IAHAIO guidelines on the use of animals in AAT and AAA
- Definitions of AAT/AAE/AAA
- The future of AAI